

When your clients get in trouble with the IRS or the State you are undoubtedly their first call. As their CPA or accountant, you may even find yourself in the uncomfortable position of having prepared and signed tax returns which the IRS or the State now wants to examine.

Just because your client is in trouble with the IRS doesn't mean you're responsible. Taxpayers are great at getting themselves in trouble all on their own. It could be something as simple as clients filing the tax returns you are preparing, but not sending the payment for their taxes.

At Tax Help 24/7, we have been solving tax problems for almost two decades. We've handled thousands of Sales Tax, Labor and Income Tax Audits, with a great amount of success. We've helped non-filers, delinquent taxpayers and responsible parties to come to resolution so they can move past their tax problems.

Your clients would meet with me personally for an absolutely free initial consultation. I will discuss all of their options and explain the most effective plan of action to resolve their tax problem. I will also give them a clear estimate of my fees. Your client would never be under no obligation or pressure to retain our firm. We will keep you in the loop through the whole process.

Tax Help 24/7 does not handle on-going conventional CPA or accounting services. Your client will always be your client, we simply provide your client specialized services which your firm may not offer, or at times of the year be unable to provide.

I encourage you to call us at 516-512-7979 to discuss any current situations we may be able to provide assistance with. Our CPAs, EAs and Tax Attorneys are always available to consult with you on any tax resolution or exam/audit matter.

Thank you.
Best Regards,

Mathew Hazan
CPA, EA.